OCEANS: THE NEW ELDORADO?

NEW

The sea, a source of innovation and future of humanity

52' | 2018 | France | EN/FR

Materials, renewable energies, housing, medicine, cosmetics, food.... The ocean is a source of inspiration to innovate in many fields. This film offers an unprecedented « tour of the oceans » to discover the most surprising and promising research and to meet the scientists, engineers and other visionaries that have decided to draw from the bottom of the oceans the key to the most important crisis of our times (climatic, demographic, sanitary and ecological) and to tomorrow's biggest issues.

MASTERS OF THE ELEMENTS

NEW

Green Energy sources for a cleaner future

4x52' | 2018 | France | EN/FR SUBS

By 2050, the Earth's population will have reached nearly 10 billion people. Today the planet's resources are already insufficient to provide for the energy needs of all its inhabitants. Master of the Elements proposes new technologies fostered by start ups, that we could already apply in our present. Changing our habits has become not just an option but a necessity!

How to restore the environment and secure future biodiversity

4x52' | 2017-2018 | France | EN/FR

Pollution, global warming, desertification of land and the consequences of human and industrial activities threaten the planet's life support mechanisms a bit more every day. Scientists have been sounding the alarm for decades. Close encounters with committed researchers who have decided to tackle the problem head-on and engage in safeguarding the environment and preserve the fauna and flora.

THE SCIENCE OF DREAMS

52' | 2018 | France | EN/FR

It's one of the big mysteries of humanity: almost every night we dream. What are dreams? Why do we dream? Are they a rational product of our sleeping brain or a window into our unconscious? Technological progress changed the vision of the scientific community and opened a door into this oneiric world.

Producer : AB Productions
Broadcaster : Science & Vie TV

A WORLD WITHOUT... NEW EPISODES

6x52' | 2013-2019 | France | EN/FR

What would a world without the much-needed forests look like? What would happen if all the germs disappeared from our planet? What would be the face of a world deprived of one of its worst parasites, the mosquito, responsible for several million deaths a year? What would happen if we were, one day, deprived of our satellites?

EARTH ATTACKS!

52' | 2017 | France | EN/FR

If space agencies spend every year tens of millions on disinfection of exploratory devices, it's no coincidence. "Earth Attacks!" is a space adventure that uncovers the risks of bad sterilization of the objects that we send into space. Discover how man could tomorrow annihilate its own research and stumble upon traces that he left behind him.

MAN 2.0

The dawn of a new species

6x52' | 2019 | France, Italy | 4K

Man 2.0 is the multi-ethnic and multicultural result of today's science. For 4.5 billion years mutation, gene flow and natural selection have driven the evolutionary process and forged life on Earth. Today cultural evolution is taking over changing how we live, how we think and how we die. For the first time in history humankind has the knowledge and the tools to intervene directly in its own evolutionary process. The future is already present thanks to the latest advances in genetic mapping, that not only allow us to 'repair' our defective parts but also to improve our genes. The six part documentary series investigates the growing role of science in shaping human life. We meet the most prominent scientists, anthropologists and futurologists of Europe and the rest of the world to explore the state of the art of the human species: from a Genetically Modified Homo Sapiens to Homo Technologicus and Digitalis.

WHO'S DRIVING THE CAR? NEW

The unexpected revolution

52' | 2018 | France | EN/FR

Driving is already outdated! Far more than a simple technological innovation, the autonomous car is a true Trojan horse. Just as Uber turned the world of taxis upside down, it should also disrupt the world of cars, transports and urban space. With autonomous cars, a new hierarchy of transport players is coming and is going to change our world.

Producer : AB Productions
 Broadcaster : Science & Vie TV

AUGMENTED H+UMANITY

52' | 2017 | France | EN/FR

With Augmented H+umanity we will travel from USA to Asia, into the heart of labs that want to use science and technologies to radically change human beings and to create robots that seem alive. How far will technology go to improve our living conditions? Robotics is an important science, but the future of our species does not lie in a massive substitution by robots. If we lose our humanness, isn't that the end of Humanity? On the contrary, robotics and technologies must be used to improve the living conditions and the environment of human beings.

Producer : AB Productions
 Broadcaster : Science & Vie TV

AI: YOUR NEW BRAIN

52' | 2017 | France | EN/FR

Deep Learning is a radical and recent revolution from engineering. Deep learning allows computer systems to better analyse and interpret large volumes of data. By using deep neural networks, computers can analyse, understand and respond to complex situations as quickly as men. It is a decisive step in the way machines learn to represent the world as humans do. Deep learning brings back to the forefront the search for artificial intelligence.

THE FORGOTTEN ONES: SOLDIERS LEFT BEHIND IN WWI

Or the reason why the war of 1914-1918 was the first world war

NEW

52' | 2018 | France | EN/FR

If World War One was called this way, it is because it is the first conflict involving each and every continent of the world in terms of fighting troops. Through geopolitical schemes and alliances, thousands of men went fighting on the Franco-German battlefield and lost their lives far from their home country. Who are these soldiers that we hardly ever talk about? Through the visit of impressive European necropolis, lone witnesses of the existence of these soldiers, this documentary will recount the adventure of an Indian Sikh, of a Senegalese Muslim or of a Chinese coolie resting in the cemetery of Nolette in France.

WORLD WAR I ON THE MICROSCOPE

DNA tests to reveal the identity of the unknown soldiers of WWI

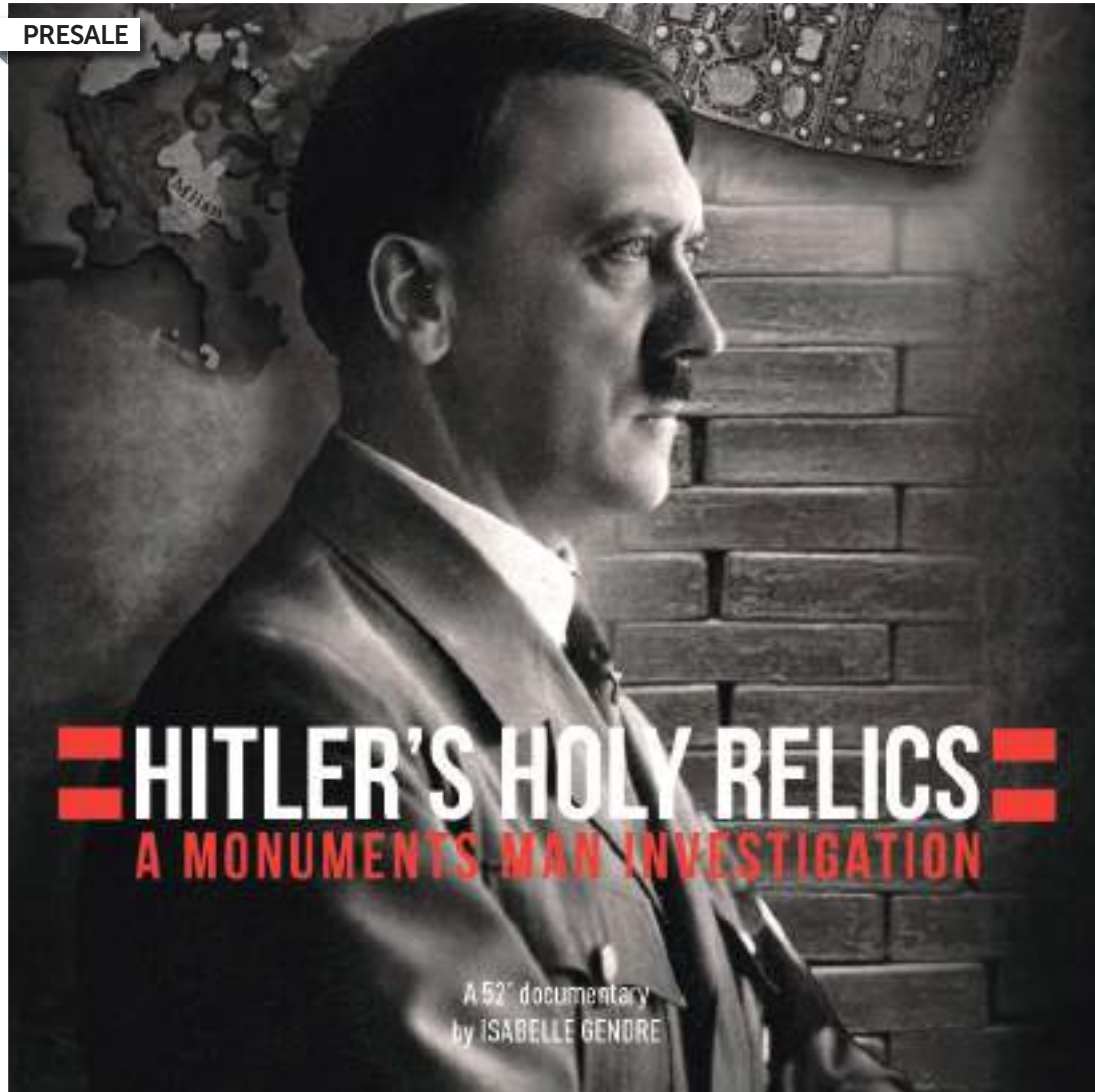

NEW

52' | 2018 | France | EN/FR

When a forensic scientist is called out to analyze human remains, it usually leads to a criminal case. But not in Verdun, France. There, it is just the routine. Quite an unusual routine... Doctor Bruno Frémont, who's been working for thirty years at the city's Hospital, knows what to expect : the remains of a soldier of the First World War has been found and Dr. Frémont needs to find out who this is.

HITLER'S HOLY RELICS

Looking for the holy relics of the Third Reich

52' | 2019 | France

The year is 1945. The war is almost over. The Allies occupy Germany, where most Nazi dignitaries have either killed themselves or been captured and are about to be trialed. The world order is undergoing a reshuffling in the aftermath of the war. It is in this context that an American soldier and specialist of medieval sacred art is tasked with a most dangerous mission: he is given three weeks, until the Nuremberg trials, to solve a mystery in order to contribute to the end of the Third Reich and at the same time return the relics of the Holy Roman Empire.

SEAPLANES: A NEW ERA NEW

After 50 years of oblivion, seaplanes come back on stage

52' | 2018 | France | EN/FR

Seaplanes have existed since the dawn of military aviation, but their period of greatest growth was between the two World Wars and up until the 1960s. After the 1960s, their technical limitations and the widespread construction of large airports confined the usefulness of seaplanes to places or activities in close proximity to water, such as transportation in areas that were hard to reach by road, aerial firefighting, and maritime reconnaissance. Nowadays, however, aircraft manufacturers worldwide are developing prototypes fit to meet the military and civilian needs of tomorrow. The newly buoyant market for seaplanes is a reflection of the human and geopolitical issues at stake for our planet.

CHARLES LINDBERGH

NOVEL COLORIZED ARCHIVES

52' & 84' | 2014 | France | EN/FR/GE/SP

On the 20-21 May 1927, a young aviator made the first nonstop solo transatlantic flight from Paris to New York aboard his Spirit of St. Louis. Overnight, Charles A. Lindbergh became the world's best-known aviator and a great American hero for generations to come. Daniel Costelle & Isabelle Clarke delve into the world's archives to illustrate in color (with some footage and state-of-the-art 3D animation), the exciting story of this heroic exploit. The film also retraces the sometimes tragic and dishonorable highlights of this courageous man's life: the kidnapping and murder of his first child, his fascination with Hitler and his secret life with three women.

YASHKA: MALES ARE NOT ENOUGH! NEW

The story of the first exclusively female battalion of modern History

52' | 2018 | France | EN/FR

The path of Yashka, an illiterate peasant woman turned warlord in a male and violent world, is that of an icon. If the official history has minimized, even erased her impact, the people of the time, the press, the fighters, the politicians, all knew about Maria Bochkareva. From the Women's Battalion of Death to the Pussy Riots, the road is long and old: the fight that women (and men sometimes) leads for gender equality did not started in the 21st century.

MUSTARD: A SPICY BUSINESS NEW

A French sauce made in ...Canada

52' | 2018 | France | EN/FR

Traditional, with honey, sweet and sour, American, with tarragon.. Mustard is the third most eaten condiment in the world after salt and pepper and probably one of the most declinable on our tables. Except that there is a glitch in the world of this small yellow grain: most of the Dijon Mustard is made out of grains from.. Canada. That is sufficient for the producers from Burgundy to be upset and to start doing everything possible to restore the mustard "made in France".

AVOCADO: THE TRUE COST OF A FOOD TREND

52' | 2017 | France | EN/FR

Concentrating vitamins and minerals, rich in unsaturated fatty acids and in potassium, full of antioxidants: the avocado is a fruit of thousand virtues. Formerly considered as an exotic fruit eaten at special events, the avocado is now a leading product of contemporary cuisine and available all year long. But the environmental – massive deforestation, overconsumption of water – and human effects coming from its overproduction are more and more worrying. While Mexican researchers are currently trying to develop the genetically modified avocado of the future to answer the overconsumption of the fruit, will the avocado be the unfortunate victim of its own success?

SALMON: THE SOLUTION TO A GLOBAL FOOD CRISIS?

52' | 2017 | France | EN/FR

Salmon is broadly consumed in Europe and 70% of it is produced in Norwegian breeding farms. A few years ago, several organisations and associations have pointed out the preoccupying farming conditions, questioning the salmon's well-being and accusing the producers to pollute the oceans. Some laboratories have even revealed that the toxicity of the salmon was higher than its nutritional qualities. Today, are these farms where the « most toxic food in the world » is produced, still existing? In what conditions are Norwegian salmon bred? What is the environmental impact of this activity? Breeders, reputed environmental associations, nutritionists and international aquaculture experts have all agreed to testify.

SANDWICH NEW

At a time when everything can be bought anywhere in any quality, why do more and more people choose to turn to the "DIY"?

90' | 2018 | France | EN/FR | 4K

A piece of bread, two or three fresh ingredients.. and you are all set for a snack made in 2 minutes. But what if.. you had to produce all the ingredients of your sandwich one by one, starting from scratch? How long would that take? Sandwich is the challenge that the journalist Benjamin Carle set himself to analyze this strange necessity that we have to make our own things. It is a film on the "Do It Yourself" trend. At a time when everything can be bought anywhere in any quality, why do more and more people chose to come back to manual hobbies and/or jobs? It is a film that shows how a young man from the city, not a very handy person, tries to find back is personal pride by proving wrong the saying "young people can't do anything by themselves". He tells the story of progress that in a way set us free from hard works but that also pushed us away from our homo sapiens heritage. And finally, maybe are we all trying to get back to our roots..

DON'T THROW YOUR CLOTHES AWAY!

52' | 2016 | France | EN/FR

Our wardrobes are full up: a European lady buys in average 30 kilos of clothes per year. These clothes often pile up in their closets and end up in the waste. Every year, we throw away worth 442 millions of euros of clothes. However today we are always pushed into giving, selling or recycling our old clothes. This documentary traces back the hidden face of used clothes and reveals what lies behind the industry of clothes recycling.

CLINT EASTWOOD: NEW LAST OF THE LEGENDS

52' | 2018 | France | EN/FR

Clint Eastwood is a universe all by itself. He is the master builder of a unique, ultra-coherent filmography, built like a jam of jazz musicians: instinct, feeling, with desire for total freedom. Eastwood is perhaps the last legend of Hollywood cinema, a solid bridge between the golden age and a modern era that has never been the reason for its uncompromising cinema. How did this second-tier actor who was successful in westerns made in Europe rise to the rank he enjoys today? With a little luck and a lot of clairvoyance.
